

13 January 2021

Dear Participants

On behalf of the Local Organizing Committee, you are cordially invited to participate Seventh Conference of the International Society for Applied Phycology (7th ISAP). ISAP is one of the world largest and most significant phycological conference attracting academic and industrial participants at all career stages from all over the world. It is a premier forum for exchanging new technical-scientific achievements, for demonstrating state-of-the-art technology, and for establishing and strengthening professional cooperation and network in the field of Applied Phycology.

As you know, we designed the conference into a virtual format. All the participants will obtain the rights to access all the contents of the conference, such as oral sessions, poster (or short presentation) sessions, special sessions, panel discussions, special lectures, keynote sessions, virtual tours, etc. Also, there will be multiple types of networking programs, such as B2B meeting, exhibition booth, and student & young researcher forum, to accelerate interactions among participants.

I would like to express my sincere appreciation to all the participants, financial sponsors, exhibitors, supporting organizations and all the committee members who will make ISAP2021 successful. With these strong supports, we believe ISAP2021 will be beneficial and fruitful to all participants.

Sincerely,

Prof. Dr. Makoto M. Watanabe

Chair of ISAP 2020-2021 Local Organizing Committee

Director of ABES, University of Tsukuba
